ITINERARY

SATURDAY:

Meeting at the marina, provisioning and checking in on our boats. Dinner near the marina and overnight on board. You can also take a taxi to nearby St. Tropez for dinner.

SUNDAY:

We will set sail for Bormes-les-Mimosas, covering about 26 nautical miles. As we navigate, we'll pass the scenic rocks near Cap des Salins, where you can spot a statue of the famous French actress, Brigitte Bardot.

We'll make stops along the way for swimming, snorkeling, and enjoying a leisurely lunch.

In the evening, we'll anchor in Bormes-les-Mimosas, a charming town known for its beautiful flowers. Take some time to explore the town before enjoying dinner onshore. Don't miss a visit to the medieval Fort de Brégançon, which was featured in the 1951 film Captain Horatio Hornblower.

FRENCH RIVIERA FLOTILLA

Join us for an unforgettable week as we sail through the stunning French Riviera! Departing from the picturesque Port Les Cogolin, you'll explore iconic destinations like St. Tropez, the charming Bormes-les-Mimosas, and the beautiful islands of Porquerolles and Port-Cros.

Experience the perfect blend of sun-soaked days on the water and enchanting evenings in vibrant ports. Our flotilla style sailing ensures a fun and supportive atmosphere for everyone, whether you're an experienced sailor or a beginner.

And don't miss the chance to enhance your experience with land tours before or after the flotilla—there's so much beauty to discover in this breathtaking region!

Jean and Mila, both U.S. Coast Guard captains, have been leading sailing flotillas since 2009, bringing a wealth of expertise and a love of adventure to every voyage. Jean, an ASA-certified instructor, and Mila ensure each trip is safe, enriching, and filled with memorable cultural experiences.

MONDAY

We sail from B-I-M to the national park island of Porquerolles, where we can visit historic Fort St. Agathe, the beaches of Notre Dame and of La Courtade. Again, stops for swimming and snorkeling in the many calanques.

Dinner onshore, and overnight.

TUESDAY

It's a short sail to the stunning island of Port-Cros, a true paradise for nature lovers. Here, you can hike through pristine Mediterranean landscapes, and the crystal-clear waters offer fantastic opportunities for swimming and snorkeling.

Port-Cros is a pedestrian-only island—no bicycles allowed—so get ready to enjoy some invigorating walks! In the evening, we'll have dinner onshore, with the "Manoir" as our recommended restaurant. While it's a bit on the pricey side, the experience is absolutely worth it, and we'll need to make reservations well in advance.

For those interested in diving, local dive shops are available for bookings, so you can explore the underwater beauty of the area.

WEDNESDAY

Today we head for nearby Hyeres, where we will dock for the night and have dinner on shore. Hyeres is one of the French Mediterranean most typical towns.

THURSDAY

We spend the day exploring Hyeres, which dates back to the Romans, when it was called Olbia, and you can still visit some of the ruins dating back to that time. It is also famous for its colorful houses and the medieval gates. Wine tasting at local wineries?

FRIDAY:

Time to sail back to the base of Port Grimaud, with some stops along the way for some swimming and lunch. Let's wave at Brigitte's statue again before turning round the cape towards the base
