

JUNE 28 – JULY 5, 2025

ITINERARY

SATURDAY:

After a lazy morning, “Admiral” Mila will lead the provisioning party and raid the local market and grocery stores. As we are in Greece, we want, of course, to enjoy as much Greek cuisine as possible and our provisions will be mainly limited to breakfast and lunch items and, of course, good Greek wines and Ouzo.

Once we all have been checked in on our boats, we will sail to nearby Vonitsa, dock for the night and have a delicious dinner in one of the tavernas.

Don't miss a visit to the nearby castle.

NORTH IONIAN GREECE FLOTILLA

If you have ever dreamed of cruising the Ionian Sea where Homer's heroes once sailed, this flotilla offers an unforgettable experience. Set on Greece's west coast, the northern Ionian itinerary combines the best of sailing, local camaraderie, ancient myths, and authentic Greek hospitality.

After a memorable summer flotilla in the southern Ionian, we explored the northern route from Preveza to Corfu and were captivated by its beauty. Now, we are excited to share this journey with you, offering a unique blend of sailing adventure and cultural discovery.

Arrive Thursday in Preveza to settle in, shake off the jet lag, and ease into the vacation vibe. On Friday, we'll gather for a welcome cocktail and, if you'd like, dinner at a local taverna. Prepare to set sail on a week of exploration and fun making new friends and creating unforgettable memories.

SUNDAY:

We'll embark on a 24NM journey to the island of Antipaxos, where we'll anchor for the night, securing our boats with Med mooring lines to the rocks. Dinner will be enjoyed onboard, surrounded by the island's serene beauty.

MONDAY:

Let's make the most of today's sailing, but if Aeolus doesn't provide the winds, we'll anchor for a swim in crystal-clear waters along the local beaches. For a delightful Greek lunch, head to Spyros' Taverna in Agios Vrika Bay.

The west coasts of Antipaxos and Paxos are famous for their stunning cliffs and caves—perfect for exploration. We'll anchor overnight in Lakka, a charming town known for its lively tavernas and welcoming atmosphere.

TUESDAY:

Off we go to the incredible island of Corfu, known as Kerkyra to the locals. We'll anchor beneath the Old Fortress, where you can dinghy ashore to explore the rich history of this ancient city, dating back well before 3000 BC.

Stroll through winding streets lined with shops and tavernas, take in the Venetian-inspired architecture, and savor a delicious gelato. We'll spend the night at anchor, or if weather requires, dock at nearby Benitses.

WEDNESDAY:

Next stop is the mainland and the port of Sivota, 19NM southeast of Corfu. We will spend the night at the wall of the town of Mourtos. Dinner on shore.

THURSDAY:

We cross again to Paxos where, after a 12NM sail, we will reach the small port of Gaios, one of the most picturesque towns of this part of the Ionian. The space at the village pier is on a first come, first served basis but there is a safe anchorage from where we can dinghy in for a memorable meal at a local Taverna. Our favorite is Alexandros.

FRIDAY:

We'll set off early for our final 32NM passage back to Preveza, making the most of this last day on the water.

Upon arrival, you're welcome to spend the night on board or at a local hotel. For those staying on board, disembarkation will be by 08:30 on Saturday morning.

Wishing you a safe journey home, carrying unforgettable memories of an incredible week at sea.

OUR TEAM

Jean and Mila, both U.S. Coast Guard captains, have been leading sailing flotillas since 2009, bringing a wealth of expertise and a love of adventure to every voyage. Jean, an ASA-certified instructor, and Mila ensure each trip is safe, enriching, and filled with memorable cultural experiences.

Belen Castro, our ASA instructor from Spain, speaks fluent English, Greek, and several other languages. Highly regarded by past students, she’s known for her exceptional teaching, thoroughness with her students, and sailing.

Spiros Kavadas, our flotilla leader since 2022, is a seasoned local sailor with deep knowledge of the Ionian Sea. His expertise and passion for these waters make him the perfect guide for our sailing adventures.
